Closely Surrounded By the Japs

GREAT MILITARY ACTIVITY

Points to the Great Assault on Port Arthur. Russian Army in Retreat Harassed by the Japanese

RUSSIANS IN DIFFICULTY.

London, August 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at New Chwang in a dispatch dated July 31st says that there has been heavy fighting for two days in the marshes south of Hai Cheng during the gradual retreat from Ta Tche Kiao of 5,000 Russians forming the rear guards and that the peril of this force increases daily.

SERIOUS FIGHTING AT PORT ARTHUR.

Tokio, August 1.—The General Staff announced this evening that five Japanese officers had been killed and 41 wounded in the fighting which has been going on around Port Arthur since last Tuesday. Losses in the ranks are not given. This is the first announcement of its kind since the beginning of the siege of the fortress and indicates that there has been serious fighting.

JAPANESE LOSSES AT TA TCHE KIAO.

Tokio, August 1.—Japanese casualties at the battle of Ta Tche Kiao were twelve officers and 136 men killed and forty-seven officers and 848 men wounded. A total of 1,043 killed or wounded.

GREAT BATTLE IMMINENT.

Kuchiatzu, Manchuria, August 1.—As a great battle appears to be imminent, a survey of the positions of the two armies will be interesting. The main body of the Russians and Japanese are very near each other. They now form in the north a more powerful army than at any previous time. Virtually, however, the same conditions prevail north of Hai Cheng as previously reported. The Russians are holding Tien Shuitah, Chit-saiyan, Pien and Kuan Chia passes. The Japs continue to march across the upper part of the Taitse River towards Mukden by way of Pensipu, protecting their left flank from Kuchiatze and Kuanchia pass. Russians are making a demonstration in large force before Pien Pass and also in front of Kuanchia pass. A detachment of Cossacks attempted to reconnoitre the Yu Huang Kao temple today and was driven back from two points.

JAPS WANT TO FIGHT.

The Japanese as this dispatch is filed can plainly be seen taking up positions for conflict. They are apparently determined to fight and it is reported that the Russian commander has ordered preparations to be made for four or five thousand wounded.

THE MURDERED RUSSIAN MINISTER.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—The prefect of police notified the emperor of the Von Plehve tragedy. He did so immediately upon its occurrence. His majesty, who was at Villa Alexandria at Peterhoff, was greatly affected by the news, coming as it did at the opening of bad tidings from the seat of war, fears of international complications and the strain incidental upon the hourly expectation of the event close to a father's heart. The emperor almost broke down when he was informed of the murder.

M. Von Plehve's coachman was also killed. Since he was appointed minister of the Interior in April, 1902, he has been threatened many times and his assassination was regarded as certain to come at some time or another. He was one of the most hated men in all Russia.

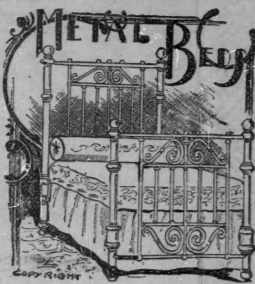

The assassination of the minister caused consternation. He was the man responsible for the Kishineff massacre, and several times attempts have been made on his life. He was hated by the masses. The murdered man was of Polish extraction.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—The assassin of Minister Von Plehve is in the hospital. An operation was performed on him. He was wounded in the stomach. He may live. A Russian officer was killed and twenty bystanders injured.

As he threw the bomb he cried: "Long live freedom."

As the carriage was passing the assassin tried to break through the crowd, but was prevented. He then threw the bomb at the rear of the carriage, blowing it to pieces. The bomb was fitted with nails.

The assassination was similar to that of Alexander II.

Dominion Exhibition

Free Press:

The sun smiled uncertainly through gathering clouds on the opening of the second day of the great Dominion Exhibition, but notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the weather, quite a large crowd found their way to the grounds. Every street car going exhibitionward from the C. P. R. station was crowded to the doors, and on the sidewalk leading from the entrance of the grounds to the centre of attraction, a continual stream of people were passing. Despite this the grounds seemed large enough indeed to make the crowd look very small, especially when they got scattered around through the different buildings.

The crowd was almost entirely confined to the buildings, and there were a great many people continually passing in and out of the industrial and live stock buildings. All the other buildings received a great deal of attention as well. A great crowd of spectators watched the judging of heavy draft horses which took place in the Tropic Enclosure in front of the live stock pavilion.

The 91st band from Hamilton played this morning, and the charming strains of their music drew a number to the stand on which they were playing. There are thirty-five members of the band, and the bandmaster is Mr. H. A. Stairs. The 91st regiment of Hamilton has only been recently organized, and this is its band. They will play three times every day during the exhibition, sometimes in the morning and every afternoon and evening whenever the directors ask them. They wear the Gordon plaid and the Kilites in the afternoon.

At 1:30 the stockmen's luncheon took place, and the stockmen attended in great numbers. They were addressed by Hon. Sidney Fisher, and his address was listened to with a great deal of attention.

The exhibition offices are literally crowded with people who desire information on almost every conceivable topic, in regard to the exhibition and otherwise, and the staff are working at very high pressure.

The weather conditions for this afternoon and evening are not very promising. A strong wind seems to be getting up, and rain is almost a certainty, though it will probably not be very heavy.

The police station at the grounds is a very uninviting affair and the cells are three coops in which a man has barely room to move around. They measure about 3 by 4 feet and are about 7 feet high. They are intended only for temporary confinement. The police have had little to do except keep the crowds in order and return lost children to their parents or guardians. A couple of little ones have been found and as their friends could not be located on the grounds one of the special policemen was detailed to take them home on the cars. In the case of a youngster being found who cannot give his address it will be brought to the city police station and kept there until claimed. Police Inspector Munro is in charge of the station on the grounds and has a force of detectives and special police under him. Ample police protection is given, but as usual it is little needed owing to the orderly manner in which the crowds conduct themselves. No arrests have been made as yet.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FRUIT.

The corner of the British Columbia building given up to the fruit exhibit from that province looks simply charming. The fruit that has been bottled is in tall slender jars, quite ornamental in themselves and they are arranged on shelves wreathed by holly, ivy and sprays of cedar and fir and spruce from the same province. Below the bottled fruits are the boxes of magnificent red and black cherries, immense gooseberries as large as pears, raspberries and tomatoes, the latter quite the finest that have been exhibited in Winnipeg this year. Free supplies of green fruit comes to daily; what was shown yesterday will be replaced today by still fresher cases. Of great interest to visitors are the branches of cherry trees with the fruit on them. The clusters are so thick that many will not believe they actually grow on the trees until the secretary lifts the branch up and shows them that such is the case.

EXHIBITION POST OFFICE.

The exhibition post office under the charge of Mr. J. T. Simmons in the old main building proved its usefulness very decidedly yesterday by the amount of mail it was called upon to deliver to visitors and exhibitors. This is a new feature in connection with fairs, and was regarded as somewhat of an experiment. It was secured through the efforts of Mr. D. W. Bole, and it will probably hereafter be made a permanent feature of the exhibition. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. for business, and postcards and stamps are kept and sold for the benefit of fair visitors. All mail matter addressed to the exhibition, to any of the Midway people or the companies taking part in the platform attractions comes to this office, as well as any other mail directed to it. There are four or five boxes for the reception of mail throughout the grounds, including one at the post office, and the collection made three times a day, at 9 a.m., 12 and 6 p.m.

The ladies' work was not all in place yesterday but the display will be larger than usual. Some very lovely examples of embroidery on linen are shown in both colored and all white designs. Some pieces of Mountmellick embroidery being especially lovely. A great deal of Honiton lace is shown this year in collars, handkerchiefs and doilies. Some exquisite pieces of Irish point lace were also noticed. The display of plain sewing, however, is by no means large, and is quite overshadowed by the fancy work. The collection of centre pieces, doilies, tea cozies, and cushion tops is a most bewildering and quite impossible to describe. Knitting and crocheting are by no means East arts and some good old-fashioned knitted socks and crocheted bed spreads are displayed.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS.

The exhibit of school work is not yet all in place. The manual training department has a very fine display. About half of the space allotted is taken up with a splendid display of burnt wood work. This art has only been taught for the last two months in the schools, but a very fine collection is shown; and as the designs used are all made by the boys themselves and the drawing in free hand, the work shows that many of the boys have a decided talent for it.

AMONG THE BREEDERS.

Great disappointment is felt at the non-arrival of Mr. Frank Harding, judge of Shorthorns. After considerable trouble the directors have persuaded J. M. Guardhouse of Hayfield, Ont., and Walter Lynch, of Longburn, to act as judges, and judging in both beef and dairy classes will begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. It is hoped to have the stock judging pavilion ready by that time, although there is still a great amount of work needed on it.

Mr. John Allen, of Waikato, Auckland, New Zealand, is taking in the fair. Mr. Allen is a breeder of Shorthorns and also of sheep, and has resided 42 years in New Zealand. He represents the "New Zealand Farmer" and is very keenly interested in all the agricultural doings of the Canadian West.

Prof. Grisdale, of the Experimental Farm Ottawa, and Angus McKay, superintendent of Experimental Farm, Indian Head, were interested spectators at the horse ring this morning.

DAIRY BUILDING.
Order has to a great extent been evolved from chaos and the dairy building by another day will be in shape for exhibition. There is a fine display of dairy machinery and a very good display of dairy exhibits. Director Gentry has worked night and day since he has been able to get into the building and has been ably assisted by P. Luty of the provincial department of agriculture.

STOCK JUDGING.

There was a good deal of grumbling yesterday because there were no signs up on the barns to indicate the various breeds, and coming off the grounds last evening some of the people complained that they had not been able to see the Jerseys. This breed is situated in what was originally the sheep barn and it is the most northerly but one of the buildings found the facade. There is one general sign, "Live Stock" on the facade, immediately behind this is the first cattle barn in which can be found Senator Edwards, J. G. Barron and Sir William Van Horne's Shorthorns. Following the barns in regular order round to the north all the cattle, the exhibition horses, the sheep and pigs can be found without difficulty.

The stock judging pavilion is situated between the first and second barn. It is a comfortable structure with raised seats and a canvass roof. Unfortunately there has been no time to put in a floor and although an attempt has been made to level the ground before putting on the sidewalk it has not been very successful.

VISITORS SEE A BRIGADE RUN.

The central fire brigade had a run to Box "75" this morning about 11:30 o'clock, as a compliment to prominent exhibition visitors. The appearance of the brigade was a matter of much commendatory remark on the part of the visitors.

HORTICULTURE.

Something quite extraordinary is provided for lovers of floral display in the horticultural building, though the exhibit is not unusually large. Messrs. Aston and Ilkott are the only professional florists showing, so far as indicated. Both have very large and beautiful pyramidal displays of the usual northern grown house plants and others as well. In the way of house plants a collection of Begonias from Aston's greenhouses is perhaps more

Lord Dundonald

Regina Leader:
Lord Dundonald leaves Canada this week. It is a pity for his reputation amongst Canadians that he did not go immediately upon his dismissal. His every utterance since has been of a nature to lower him in the minds of impartial spectators. His Toronto performance on the 15th of July was a specimen of bad judgment and execrable taste. A purely personal demonstration was tendered him. The official invitation of the committee stated that "There is no political reference whatever in the address and it is not intended that the meeting should have any political significance." Lord Dundonald took highly improper and impudent advantage of the occasion to make a purely campaign speech. He threw off all the remnants of the mask he had worn. He stood revealed in the naked guise of a man who is now and who was for months hand-in-glove with the partisan opponents of the Government under which he held office, seeking chances as he has confessed by his confidential relations with the Government to get material with which to injure them. He may be a noble Lord. He may be a brilliant soldier. As a man he exhibits and boasts of qualities which in the eyes of humble Canadians are no adornment to manhood. He may boast a strain of Scottish blood. He has revealed himself in a light which will not tend to make the honor-loving Scotchmen of Canada proud to claim his kinship.

Canadians would have been pleased to let Lord Dundonald go back to England with the minimum of adverse comment, but he has seemed hungry to challenge such comment and equally keen to leave his best friends no ground on which to defend him. He declares our condition so serious as to impel him to turn on the searchlight. How did he proceed? By a speech at Montreal. But once the speech was made at the Montreal dinner he consented to its suppression. He consented to leave us all in the dark. He is neither to be thanked nor blamed for the fact that the speech later on leaked out. He was a consenting party to the snuffing out of the searchlight. As our valiant, self-sacrificing champion, he fails short of his own specifications. That speech, alleged undue political interference solely as his complaint. He cited a case. Later the facts of the case came out, and these facts confounded a charge. He then issued a manifesto and confessed that this "case" was not the cause of the trouble at all, —the cause of the trouble was that the policy of the Government "interfered" with his plans and the "interference" of the Government prevented his plans for "Canada's safety." The "interference" consisted mainly in the suppression of parts of his recommendations. These, he it noted, Sir Frederick Borden in 1903 and again this year offered to lay before the Leader of the Opposition and a committee of his supporters. The "interference" lay in the presumable fact that his recommendations were not followed by the Government. But in his Toronto speech, what does he say?

"Gentlemen, the most extraordinary feature of the controversy with regard to the recommendations in my report for 1903 is the very remarkable fact that the main features and recommendations in it, so far as paper organization is concerned, have already been adopted, and are now in force in Canada."

If the phrase "so far as paper organization is concerned" qualifies Lord Dundonald's admission. The qualification is of a nature against which the people of Canada will not object when they reflect that in eight years the Liberal Ministry have spent $18,500,000 upon militia and defence in comparison with $10,500,000 spent during their last eight years by the gentlemen who are now seeking to make a political issue of Dundonald's attack. Every time Lord Dundonald writes or speaks he refutes and contradicts his own previous utterances. He has himself furnished the most complete and "absolute" answers to his own charges and allegations. He has himself most effectively broken down his own attack, and he leaves Canada distinctly discredited as a man, however brilliant, lacking in discretion, judgment, good taste, veracity or any fine sense of honor. At Toronto he specifically projected himself as a political issue. As a political issue, therefore, he must be discussed. The Liberal party need not shrink from discussion.

Some Political Observations

The Leduc correspondent of the Strathcona Plaindealer writes to that paper as follows:—

Considering the phenomenal prosperity that has been enjoyed by Canada under the Liberal government, it must indeed, be somewhat embarrassing to the Conservatives of today to read some of their leader's remarks on the introduction of the Fielding tariff in 1897; Sir Chas. Tupper, then leader of the Conservative party, is quoted as follows:—

"The result is that this tariff goes into operation and the honorable gentleman knows that the industries of this country are already paralyzed in consequence, while honorable members gloat over the destruction of Canadian industries. I was reading the wail, the sorrowful wail, of those industries in the Montreal Gazette, where one manufacturer after another declared that those industries were ruined, that their mills must close, and that they saw staring them in the face a return to the deplorable state of things that existed when the hon. gentleman who last addressed the House was in charge of the fiscal policy of this country. I say that a deeper wrong was never inflicted on Canada. I feel that so far from rejoicing at it from a party standpoint, I deplore from the bottom of my heart the ruin that is going to be inflicted upon the best interests of Canada and upon its great industries. Still I unhesitatingly say that, from a party point of view, the hon. gentlemen are doing our work; they are showing the people of this country that no reliance can be placed upon the most solemn declarations that they make either in the House or out of it; they are showing the people of this country, that, having obtained power, which was all they wished for, they are now prepared to abuse that power at a cost of a sacrifice of the industries of Canada."

Just to show how close Sir Charles' predictions have been realized, I herewith append the following, which is a correct financial summary showing the net surpluses under eighteen years of Conservative rule compared with the last eight years of Liberal rule.

Total surpluses from 1879	to 1896 under Conservative	$27,862,456
Total deficits	18,000,000
Net gain	$9,862,456
Total surpluses from 1897	to 1904 under Liberal	$58,381,842
Total deficits	519,981
Net gain	$57,861,861

This shows without doubt that little reliance can be placed on Tory clamor.

Looking to Western Canada

Free Press:

The outlook for the wheat crop of the United States in the fall is at the present moment that it will fall short of last year's. From Kansas comes the news that "a magnificent crop has been largely damaged by weeks of almost continuous rain." Similar reports are received from the Red River Valley and other regions, and President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, says that the United States will not raise more than 600,000,000 bushels of wheat, against the 664,000,000 which had been looked for by some experts, and against the 637,000,000 bushels harvested last year. The news from Russia is unmistakably bad: the fear of a wheat famine is becoming more acute. The Roumanian crop is in poor shape, and a heavy decrease in the Austro-Hungarian yield is now credited.

"But the crop in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest," says the New York Evening Post, after setting forth the above crop prospects in the United States, Russia, Roumania and Austria-Hungary, "is expected to exceed all records; at least 87,000,000 bushels are predicted for Western Canada, this year and as high as 87,500,000 bushels may possibly be reached. In 1900 that region only produced 20,000,000 bushels. This year 3,500,000 acres are under cultivation, but it is reported that 17,000,000 acres are suitable for wheat. While our Republican politicians affect an air of condescension towards our northern neighbor, that lusty infant gives increasing promise of attaining proportions that will some day make us rub our eyes."

Back From Lloydminster

Ponoka Herald:

P. Talbot, M.L.A., was in Ponoka Monday on his way home from a canvassing trip to the British settlement at Lloydminster. While away he drove over 600 miles during his three weeks' trip. Mr. Talbot reports the colony in a most prosperous condition and speaks very highly of the settlers composing the settlement. They are almost invariably men who are rapidly adapting themselves to the new conditions of life in the west, and are making good progress in the improving of their farms. He spent some time on the way out, and took particular note of the rapid development of the country all along the route, all of which shares in the wondrous prosperity of the west. Politically, Mr. Talbot found things very satisfactory. The new settlers are taking a keen interest in the political affairs of the day. They are very well pleased with the treatment they have received from the present government and Mr. Talbot finds that in the large majority of cases it will be supported at the forthcoming elections.

Clipped From Our Exchanges. Matters Occupying the Attention of Other Western Towns

Times:

Professor Paul Peter Waldenström, leader of the Swedish free church in Sweden is taking a trip through Canada, to see how many Scandinavians who have immigrated to this country are progressing. The impression in Sweden is that the conditions in Canada are not as represented and this honorable gentleman is interviewing leading citizens to arrive at the facts and upon his return to Sweden will report to the King and Parliament. Professor Waldenström is expected to arrive in Wetaskiwin on Friday August 19th, and will likely remain here a couple of days.

The Prince Albert Times says: "Not only in Rosthern and Duck Lake where he resided, but generally throughout the Territories and by all who knew him, will the death of Hubert Haysmans Baron de Defta be a matter of the most profound sorrow. The deceased gentleman was born at Anvers, in Belgium, in 1870, and in 1896 came to this country, taking up his residence at Duck Lake. Here he was appointed Dominion Land Agent and in 1897 he was transferred to Rosthern, where he has ever since discharged the duties of Land Agent. In 1901 he accepted the position of census commissioner for the Territories, a task in which he acquitted himself with entire satisfaction. He was also a director of the Canada Territories Corporation, and his services will be sorely missed by that institution. On January 1st, 1902, he was married to Corinne, eldest daughter of Mr. de la Gorgendiere, clerk of the supreme court. Familiar with German and English. In addition to his native language, French and Flemish, he was a most valuable citizen and official. He was moreover a gentleman of a high intellectual order, possessed of much tact and judgment, gifted with a most agreeable and prepossessing manner and with a sweetness of disposition that left him without an enemy wherever he lived. A Catholic and a Liberal, he was as much beloved by those of other beliefs as by the members of his own by whom he will be greatly missed in their councils.

The disease from which he died was a second attack of appendicitis, which began some two weeks ago. On Friday morning it was found absolutely necessary to operate, but he succumbed within a few hours after the operation.

A funeral service was held at the late residence, and the members of the A.O.U.W. and Foresters and the leading citizens of Rosthern accompanied the remains to the station for transfer to Prince Albert. The funeral took place here yesterday at 2 p.m., from the residence of Mr. C. de la Gorgendiere. The Libera was sung in St. Mary's Cathedral, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to the Catholic cemetery.

We extend to the bereaved Baroness and other relatives our sincere condolences in the calamity which has robbed her of a devoted and loving husband and the community of a most worthy citizen.

Mason work on the new Baptist church edifice in Strathcona is progressing rapidly and the structure is beginning to loom up quite imposingly on the splendid site it occupies at the corner of Main street and Lundson avenue. It has been arranged to hold a public service in connection with the laying of the corner stone, which will take place on next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. A. McDonald, now of Leduc, who organized the Baptist church and was its pastor for several years, will give an historical sketch of it; the manuscript to be deposited with other papers and documents in the stone. Rev. Dr. McDiarmid, Principal of Brandon College, and Rev. A. M. McDonald of Edmonton, will give addresses. It is also expected that the local clergy of the various denominations will be present and participate in the service. The public are cordially invited.

The rye harvest has begun on some farms in the Ponoka district. Barley will be cut in many fields this week.

The Hotel Leland, Leduc, began on Monday the erection of a large addition to that hostelry. The new addition will be 25x34 feet, two stories high, and when completed will add largely to the accommodation and convenience of the building. We understand the Royal Hotel expects to soon follow suit by the erection of an addition to their building.

The seventh annual meeting of the Territorial Teachers' Association was held in the assembly room of the Normal School last Thursday afternoon, the chair being occupied by Vice President McCaig. The election of officers resulted as follows: Patron and hon. vice president, D. P. McColl, B.A.; president, J. McCaig, M. A., L. L. B.; first vice president, W. Rae, B.A.; second vice president, J. F. Hutcheson, B. A.; secretary treasurer, J. T. Dunning; resolution committee, C. H. Lee, B. A.; W. J. Elder, B. A.; H. Sirmott, B. A.; B. E. Wallace, B. A.; and J. H. Munro, Art committee: A. J. Mathers, B. A.; J. A. Findlay, B. A.; S. Williams, B. A.; J. O'Brien, R. H. Johnston and S. J. A. Bramin.

The Trimble Creamery, Red Deer, has just closed a very successful half year. The price received has been good and the patrons are well pleased. For the winter season of 1903-4 the output was 11,785 lbs., the price received per pound being 26 cents. The cost of making was four cents, thus the patrons received 22c per pound as their share, which netted the nice sum of $2,592.70. The summer season promises to be much larger than last year. The output for May was about 1,000 pounds, and for June 12,000. In the first week in July the output was 3,950 and the largest day's make was 1,550 pounds.

There have been 167 homestead entries at the Dominion Land Office at Red Deer up to the 28th of this month. Friday alone there were 20 entries.

June homestead entries at Innisfail numbered 21. Between July 7th and 23rd, 40 entries were made.

AT THE CHURCHES

At the Methodist church yesterday both services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Huesla, pastor of that church. In the morning he preached a sermon specially to the Knights of Pythias Society which attended in a body. He took for his text "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens," preaching a splendid and very appropriate sermon. He expanded in the three great virtues of friendship, charity and benevolence, which go far to constitute the true religion which should be at rule and guide to the actions and conduct of man to man. A beautiful duet, "There is a Beautiful Land," was splendidly rendered by Mrs. E. Green and Mr. C. W. Willis. The choir sang a very appropriate anthem.

The services in the Presbyterian church were conducted by Rev. W. J. Clark of the First Presbyterian church in London. In the evening he took as his text "What Ye Not that I Must do About My Father's Business," preaching a splendid sermon. In the morning Miss Webster sang a much appreciated solo and during the evening service the choir rendered an anthem. Rev. C. W. Cory of Strathcona preached in the Baptist church Sunday morning. The evening service was taken by Rev. A. M. McDonald who preached on the subject "With Both Hands Earnestly." There was a good attendance at both services.

RUSSIAN SENT UP

A Russian named Evan Fijerszek was up before Magistrate Cowan at the Fire Hall Saturday evening charged with stabbing a brother Russian by the name of John Kokudarn. The hearing of the case elicited the following story:

On Friday night Fijerszek and Kokudarn, with two other Russians, were walking up Kinslaine avenue engaged in a more or less friendly conversation. Suddenly Fijerszek challenged his companion to an impromptu fist contest, which kind invitation Kokudarn promptly and decisively refused. The valiant one attempted to force a scrap when the other two Russians, who claim to be of a peaceful disposition, interfered in the interests of law and order. Not to be outdone, Fijerszek suddenly pulled out a knife and slashed his companion twice on the breast before he was overpowered.

Three of the party were for keeping the whole matter quiet, but Fijerszek's anger commenced to rise again and rushing for a pick which lay beside a waterworks excavation nearby, promptly proceeded to enlighten matters. In this, again, he was overpowered. Being foiled in his attempts to cause further doings, he betought himself of seeking the police and leading them astray. Going to the fire hall he informed Engineer Turgeon that three Russians were engaged in a sort of free for all scrap up in the north end and the presence of the police was requested to quell the disturbance. Engineer Turgeon went along with the wily Russian, and meeting the three Russians, he would be informed that Fijerszek was attempting to stab Kokudarn with a vengeance and Mr. Turgeon thought it wise to take the accused as well as the accused into custody. They were promptly taken to the fire hall and lodged at the city's expense over night.

The trial came up Saturday evening and Magistrate Cowan committed Fijerszek for trial before the Supreme Court.

Says Jacob Brunner a Prominent Banker of Brussels. Our Natural Resources an eye opener

Jacob Brunner, a prominent banker of Brussels, Belgium, and a member of the party of wealthy European bankers who have been visiting Edmonton for a few days left this morning for the south to continue his tour through the West. The other members of the party, Edward Jacobs of Antwerp, and F. West of Paris, left on Saturday. Mr. Brunner was so struck by the marvelous and practically undeveloped resources of Northern Alberta that he decided to spend Saturday and Sunday in the district and overtake his travelling companions later. W. A. Campbell of Winnipeg who accompanies the party remained over with Mr. Brunner. To say that Mr. Brunner is delighted with Edmonton and district is putting it mildly. He is intensely enthusiastic over it and predicts great development within the next few years. While in Edmonton Mr. Brunner was entertained by members of the city council, board of trade, and other prominent citizens. Everything was done to give Mr. Brunner an insight into the great natural advantages which Northern Alberta enjoys.

On Saturday afternoon Mayor Short, J. H. Morris, W. A. Campbell, and Mr. Brunner took an automobile trip through the Sturgeon valley district. The country appeared to very great advantage. The crops are in a splendid condition, the barley headed out and the oats well advanced.

In the morning Robt. Mays of the Mays Coal Company took Mr. Brunner down the river to his coal mine. Mr. Brunner exhibited great interest in the mine and wondered that such vast deposits of such a splendid grade of coal were not more fully developed. The difficulties that lay in the way, lack of good transportation and other drawbacks were explained to him. He confessed to be specially struck by the coal beds and the simplicity with which they could be mined. Under proper organization the mines should be worked to the great advantage of Edmonton and district. The presence of these great coal fields at Edmonton naturally appealed strongly to Mr. Brunner as over 100,000 people in his own country are directly engaged in this pursuit. He mentioned that Northern Alberta needed no stronger recommendation to his mind as a field for immigration than the presence of these coal fields close to and underlying some of the richest farming lands it had ever been his pleasure to see.

Yesterday Mr. T. Revillon of Revillon Brothers took a party consisting of Mr. Brunner, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Lafresle, Mr. Alfred Allene Jones, Mr. Taylor, Miss Taylor and others for a drive through the Stony Plain districts across country to St. Albert and thence back to Edmonton. The day was delightful and the country appeared to very great advantage. The crops are very advanced and the hay crop which is an especially heavy one is being cut. Again Mr. Brunner expressed himself delighted with the drive and our boundless though undeveloped natural resources.

During his stay here Mr. Brunner was informed of the great salt and oil deposits in the north, the gold in the mountains and river, the vast tracts of country underlaid with a splendid grade of coal and the practically limitless expanses of fertile country which waited cultivation by the settler to cause them to bloom like the rose.

Mr. Brunner said that he found it a pleasure to carry back to his people in Belgium the story of Northern Alberta's abundant undeveloped wealth and frankly stated that beyond a doubt a large immigration would seek our country from Belgium. At present the great overflow of population is going to Egypt and the Argentine Republic which conditions are not nearly so equitable as in Northern Alberta. He expected that a large part of this immigration would come Canadian. These immigrants are of a highly desirable class, men of money and experience who are leaving Belgium on account of the overflow of population. Mr. Brunner left this morning for the south highly pleased with his visit to Edmonton and immediate vicinity.

C. N. R. GRADING

Grading operations have commenced eighteen miles west of Battleford for the Canadian Northern Railway. At different points east of Battleford the grading is being pushed forward with the utmost dispatch. Over two thousand teams are at work. The different sections of the line are almost to Battleford and when finished the whole grading outfit will be shifted west of Battleford. The dry weather is allowing grading to proceed much more quickly than the Canadian Northern authorities thought possible at the first of the year. Those in authority now claim that the grade will be much nearer Edmonton this fall than the most optimistic thought possible.

Tolstoy on the War

The London Times gives prominence to the long article by Count Tolstoy on the war. Extracts from it are:

Again war, again sufferings, necessary to nobody, utterly uncalculated for; again fraud, again the universal stupefaction and brutalization of men.

Men who are separated from each other by thousands of miles, hundreds of thousands of such men (on the one hand—Buddhists, whose law forbids the killing, not only of men, but of animals; on the other hand—Christians, professing the law of brotherhood and love) like wild beasts on land and on sea are seeking out each other in order to kill, torture, and mutilate each other in the most cruel way. What can this be? Is it a dream or a reality? Something is taking place which should not, cannot be; one longs to believe that it is a dream and to awaken from it. But no, it is not a dream. It is a dreadful reality!

One could yet understand how a poor, uneducated, defrauded Japanese, torn from his field and taught that Buddhism consists, not in compassion to all that lives, but in sacrifices to idols; and how a similar poor illiterate fellow from the neighborhood of Toula or Nijni Novgorod, who has been taught that Christianity consists in worshipping Christ, the Madonna, Saints and their icons—one could understand how these unfortunate men, brought by the violence and deceit of centuries to recognize the greatest crime in the world—the murder of one's brethren—as a virtuous act, can commit these dreadful deeds without regarding themselves as being guilty in so doing.

But how can so-called enlightened men preach war, support it, participate in it, and worst of all, without suffering the dangers of war themselves, incite others to it, sending their unfortunate, defrauded brothers to fight?

These so-called enlightened men cannot possibly ignore, I do not say the Christian law, if they recognize themselves to be Christians, but all that has been written, is being written, has and is being said, about the cruelty, futility and senselessness of war. They are regarded as enlightened men precisely because they know all this. The majority of them have themselves written and spoken about this.

Something is taking place incomprehensible and impossible in its cruelty, falsehood and stupidity. The Russian Czar, the same man who exhorted all the nations in the cause of peace, publicly announces that, notwithstanding all his efforts to maintain the peace so dear to his heart (efforts which express themselves in the seizing of other people's lands and in the strengthening of armies for the defence of these stolen lands) he, owing to the attack of the Japanese, commands that the same shall be done to the Japanese as they had commenced doing to the Russians; that, they should be slaughtered; and in announcing this call to murder he mentions God, asking the Divine blessing on the most dreadful crime in the world. The Japanese Emperor has proclaimed the same thing in relation to the Russians.

Wealthy people contribute insignificant portions of their immorally acquired riches for this cause of murder or the organization of help in connection with the work of murder; while the poor, from whom the government annually collects two milliards, deem it necessary to do likewise, giving their mites also. The government incites and encourages crowds of idlers, who walk about the streets with the Czar's portrait, singing, shouting hurrah! and who, under pretext of patriotism, are licensed in all kinds of excess. All over Russia, from the palace to the remotest village, the pastors of churches, calling themselves Christians, appeal to that God who has enjoined love to one's enemies—to the God of Love Himself—to help the work of the devil to further the slaughter of men.

Stupified by prayers, sermons, exhortations, by processions, pictures and newspapers, the cannon's flesh, hundreds of thousands of men, uniformly dressed, carrying deadly weapons, leaving their parents, wives, children, with hearts of agony, but with artificial sprightliness, go where they risking their own lives, will commit the most dreadful act of killing men whom they do not know and who have done them no harm. And they are followed by doctors and nurses, who somehow imagine that at home they cannot serve simple, peaceful, suffering people, but can only serve those who are engaged in slaughtering each other. Those who remain at home are gladdened by news of the murder of men, and when they learn that many Japanese have been killed, they think some one whom they call God.

All this is not only regarded as the manifestations of exalted feeling, but those who refrain from such manifestations, if they endeavor to disabuse men, are deemed traitors and betrayers, and are in danger of being abused and beaten by a brutalized crowd which, in defence of its insanity and cruelty, can possess no other weapon than brute force.

The papers set forth that, during the receptions of the Czar, who is travelling about Russia for the purpose of hypnotizing the men who are being sent to murder, indescribable enthusiasm is manifested amongst the people. As a matter of fact, something quite different is being manifested. From all sides one hears reports that in one place three Reservists have hanged themselves; in another spot two more; in yet another about a woman whose husband had been taken away, bringing her children to the conscription committee room and leaving them there; while another hanged herself in the yard of the military commander. All are dissatisfied, gloomy, exasperated. The words, "For the Faith, the King and the Fatherland," the national anthem and shouts of "Hurrah," no longer act upon people as they once did. Another warfare of a different kind—the struggling consciousness of the deceit and sinfulness of the work to which people are being called, is more and more taking possession of the people.

Yes, the great strife of our time is not that now taking place between the Japanese and the Russians, nor that which may blaze up between the white and yellow races, nor that strife which is carried on by mines, bombs, bullets, but that spiritual strife, which without ceasing has gone on and is now going on between the enlightened consciousness of mankind now waiting for manifestation and that darkness and that burden which surrounds and oppresses mankind.

In regard to the special article by Leo Tolstoy on the Russo-Japanese war published by the Times on Monday, it may not be generally known that there is a Russian colony in England, which conducts a publishing concern known as the "Free Age Press," for the publication of Tolstoyan and kindred literature. The editor is M. Vladimir Tchertkoff, who says of himself that he has been exiled from his country for being a friend and co-worker of Leo Tolstoy, and for attempting to disclose the truth concerning certain abuses by the Russian government. This colony is now located at Tuckton, near Christchurch, Hants, where the press occupies a building which was formerly an old water-mill. Close to the mill house there is a handsome modern building, called Tuckton House, where the Russian colony, some ten or eleven in number, under the control of M. Tchertkoff, live and carry on the work of editing and distributing the various publications. The English branch of the "Free Age Press" was originally started at Puleigh, near Maldon, in Essex, whence it was moved to Tuckton some three years ago. Only the Russian version of the books and pamphlets are printed at Tuckton, the editions in English and other languages being prepared in London, Edinburgh and elsewhere. There are other branches of the society in Switzerland and continental countries, for the "Free Age Press" publishes revolutionary literature in all languages and disseminates it to all parts of the world.

Dundonald's Leavetaking

Ottawa, July 26.—Lord Dundonald left Ottawa tonight on his way to England, where he has been called by the war office. There was a large crowd turned out to see him off.

Those which were present for the occasion were Conservatives, principally members of parliament and others attending the session. There was an entire absence of Ottawa's leading citizens to take part outside of those who have been exploiting the noble earl for political purposes. The evening, however, was fine, and the crowd on the sidewalks leading to the depot was large. Following the example set in Toronto, the horses were unhitched and willing hands pulled the vehicle with a rope. As Lord Dundonald and Lady Elizabeth Cochran boarded the train, they were cheered. There were no speeches at the residence of Lord Dundonald or at the station, but a typewritten statement was supplied the press at a late hour tonight, in which it is said the train stopped below the Laurier bridge, which is about a quarter of a mile outside the station yard, and Mayor Ellis is reported to have said a few parting words to Lord Dundonald. Sir Sanford Fleming, Mr. Booth and Mr. J. MacDonnell, the Conservative organizer of Glengarry, were said to be on the car. Mayor Ellis was reported to have said that he regretted that Lord Dundonald had to leave without finishing the work of organizing the militia. Lord Dundonald is reported in this type-written statement to have said in reply that he left Ottawa with deep regret. The people were friends to him in his so-called prosperity, and they stuck to him in his adversity. He would always look with affection upon Canada and its people. The special left about 8:30 for Montreal.

Montreal, Que., July 26.—Lord Dundonald, when he reached Montreal at midnight, was met at the Grand Trunk station by a big crowd. The reception was arranged by the Canadian and St. Andrew's societies. When Dundonald stepped from the train, he was picked up and carried in the procession which formed, and marched to the Windsor hotel, where demands were made for an address from the former commander. In a few words he expressed thanks for the reception.

noticeable, though in the other genres the showing is not materially behind. The most striking display in the flower house is an allegorical floral design of remarkably fine and symbolic "Faith, Hope and Charity." It consists of a rock, cross, anchor and heart of white everlasting flowers, bound together with a silver chain, the whole mounted in the centre of a green grass plot and overhung with green foliage, among which flutter white doves. Plants and bouquets of roses, lilies of the valley and Easter lilies, artfully arranged, surround the allegory at the base. The legend, "Alston," is imbedded in the turf.

Some splendid displays of cut flowers and other amateur exhibits are in the horticultural hall.

The preserves and domestic fruits are also an exhibition here. Several exhibits of honey and beeswax are shown. The bird exhibit is not large, but is varied enough to prove interesting.

FINE ARTS.
As yet no catalogue of the fine arts exhibits, of which considerable material has been said, have been issued, so it is impossible to view the pictures intelligently. The number of paintings entered for prizes is about the same as previous years. The exhibit of amateur photography is very small. Mrs. M. Sutherland and Miss Heister Baird each have exhibited exhibits of china painting. But outside of the work of the professionals, there is very little shown.

POULTRY.
The change of location of the poultry building has not operated to the advantage of that department of the exhibition. However, the joining together of the two old houses has somewhat concentrated the exhibit, and made it more like it should have been years ago. The exhibit as a whole is somewhat smaller than was anticipated.

A Dominion Exhibition prize is not for competition among western poultrymen every year, and a scramble for these honors was anticipated.

There is, however, a price at which even these honors come too high. The experience of the managers of the Dominion Exhibition at Toronto was such that the time for the poultry exhibit was limited to eight days, and a similar concession was asked for the poultry exhibit at this time. The concession was refused. To keep poultry cooped in small pens for over two weeks invariably means they go home to die, and the majority of western poultry breeders prefer to keep their birds. The birds on exhibition, however, are a really good-looking lot. The Plymouth Rocks, hitherto the premier exhibit, has been displaced by the Wyandottes. Both are American birds, so little damage is done. In the adult classes there are 28 entries, as against 60 odd entries of Wyandottes, 21 of the latter being white. Quite a fair display of Leghorns, in adult birds, chicks and exhibition pens. The Orpingtons, are not so numerous as last year, although there are three varieties, buff, black and another color. The games (the old-fashioned exhibition games), where are they? Some of these are coming from "Bonnie Scotland" and should be here soon. The Cornish and White Indians make a nice showing, and if these birds can be educated to become heavy egg layers, are the ideal bird for Manitoba. A few Light Brahmans, but no dark Brahmans; there is a fair showing of Cochins, buff and partridge.

Seven entries of turkeys and two chicks is a decided improvement on last year.

The exhibit also includes nineteen geese of various sorts, and twenty-five ducks.

The bantams are there, but greatly reduced from their previous numbers. Rabbits and guinea pigs finish the living portion of this exhibit. Incubators and brooders in operation form no small part, and are both interesting and instructive.

The well-known judge, Mr. Butterfield, will begin work to-day, and some of the prize tickets may be expected to follow quickly. Mr. A. G. Gilbert, the poultry expert of the Central Experimental Farms at Ottawa, is expected in Winnipeg any day. During his stay he will address such meetings as can be arranged.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 16, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(1) At least six months' residence years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence upon the land may be satisfied by residence upon the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must possess one acre of land in the township in which he is settling, or buildings for his accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior. N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

The Calgary baseball team defeated Brandon in the third game of the series in Brandon by a score of 6 to 5.

Our press dispatches are considerably curtailed to-day on account of the congestion of work on the wires east of Calgary.

The new Methodist mission church on Kinsella avenue in the north end is nearing completion. Rev. Hill will be in charge of the mission.

Rev. C. W. Cory of Strathcona occupied the pulpit of the Edmonton Baptist church yesterday morning. Rev. A. M. McDonald exchanging with him.

Jas. Bacon, harbor expert for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, has been arrested under a clause of the Alien Labor Act. He will fight deportation.

At the luncheon given at the opening of the Dominion Exhibition, Winnipeg, the Free Press, mentions Donald Ross, Edmonton, as among the prominent guests who were specially invited.

A number of young men appeared before Magistrate Cowan at the fire hall Saturday afternoon to answer to a charge of riding a bicycle on the city sidewalks. They were fined two dollars and costs.

A joint stock company has purchased the plant of the defunct Northwest Chronicle of Wetaskiwin and will issue a paper in the Conservative interest. Mr. Byers, formerly town clerk, will manage the venture.

Wm. McKay and party returned to Edmonton on Saturday from Athabasca Landing. They have practically finished stringing the wires for the Government telegraph line to the Landing. There is no office at the Landing as yet.

V. Gouveau has arrived in Edmonton from Star and leaves for Medicine Hat to accept a position in the C.P.R. telegraph office. G. Mann, son of G. G. Mann, Indian Agent, at Saddle Lake, takes charge of the Government telegraph office at Star.

The old warehouse adjoining the Fire Hall is being moved to-day to make way for the construction of new municipal offices, for which W. J. Carter has the contract. The work will be proceeded with at once as the offices are to be completed by December 1st.

Jas. McDermid, homestead inspector, has returned from a trip to the district east of Wetaskiwin. Ranchers in that vicinity are having a very prosperous year. The hay crop is exceedingly heavy as an account of the dry season the bottom of the hay soughs can be cut.

A short spur is being constructed from the B. V. & P. Railway track on the Edmonton side of the bridge to the river bank. This will be used to take the timber for the Battleford bridge to the river. Two and a half million feet of bridge and pile timber is being brought in from British Columbia. Over three hundred cars are expected shortly. Mays, Hobson & Harbottle have the contract for transporting the timber to Battleford.

D. Blain, of Toronto, who is in Edmonton for the purpose of prospecting the Saskatchewan for gold in the interests of London, England, capitalists, leaves on Wednesday for a point on the river above the city, and will prospect down the river to Edmonton. If Mr. Blain's findings are satisfactory, London capitalists are ready to devote a large amount of capital to placing several large gold dredges on the river. Gold dredging on the Saskatchewan has been at a standstill for some time now and there is a strong probability that it will be revived at no far distant date.
